

Top 50 Area Middle Schools

Ranked by proficiency on the Maryland School Assessment

Tests are given in reading and math in grades 6 to 8, and each student is rated at one of three performance levels: basic, proficient or advanced. In the chart below, "proficient" means the share of students scoring in the top two levels; "advanced" means the share scoring in the top level. Schools that didn't yield data at all grades are excluded.
